FEDERAL COURT

October Term Convened In Covington Monday, Judge Cochran Presiding.

The October term of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky convened in Covington at 10:30 Monday morning, with Judge A. M. J. Cochran presiding.

City Solicitor Fred Schmitz and his assistant, John Richmond, were in court to look after the city's interests in the case of the South Covington & Cincinnati Street Railway Company, against the city of Covington, in which an injunction is sought to prevent the city disposing of a street car franchise for a period of twenty years. The court will be asking to pass on a decree that will be submitted pertaining to the granting of a perpetual injunction against the city. The car company claims to have a perpetual franchise.

When the common law docket was called, the C. & O. and L. & N. railroads pleaded guilty to violations of the safety appliance laws in a number of cases and were fined.

The case of Salie Kemp, administrator, against the C. & O. railroad, was continued until the next term of court on motion of Attorney Brent Spence for the plaintiff. The latter is the widow of C. & O. Detective Cleveland Kemp, who was killed in the railroad yards at Silver Grove.

The Rev. E. C. Jesse has just returned from Knoxville, Tenn., where he joined the Holston Conference of the M. E. church, South, and has accepted the pastorate of a church in Fries, Va. We understand that in making the change, Rev. Jesse not only secured a larger church, but also quite an increase in salary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs returned home Sunday from a week's visit with Mrs. Thomas McDonald, of Manchester, O.

Mr. William Murphy, of this city, was in Mt. Olivet Monday attending the Robertson County Court day sales.

Miss Virgie Frank, of Latonia, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Fred Williams.

A GREAT REDUCTION

In going over our stock we find that we are OVERLOADED, and have decided to REDUCE STOCK, and it goes at cost.
This space will not permit us to list it all. One great bargain is 100,000 feet of an EXCELLENT GRADE OF OAK SIDING. This goes at $2 PER HUNDRED. All other yard stock greatly reduced.
Don't miss this opportunity to get what you want in lumber and building material at the lowest prices ever known in Maysville. Terms at this reduced price are CASH.

How To Avoid The Motor Car That Bags At the Knees

The automobile is curiously like the human body—an assembling of independent parts.

The man-machine is made up of muscle and bone, nerve and blood, water and fat, waste matter and brains.

As far as locomotion is concerned, neither machine is any stronger than its weakest link.

Mark the badly co-ordinated man. He looks O. K., but when there are stairs to climb or pace to be forced, he puffs and pants, and one concludes that his ruddy color came from a recent facial massage; that his bellows need mending, that his muscles aren't; that his "strength" is mere scenery and that his sound appearance is mostly tailor made.

Haven't you seen automobiles just like that, look "pretty" but won't take you from Here to There and Back?

The "Wonder Car" that the Square Deal Man sells won't 'bag at the knees,' and he can prove by the testimony of delighted owners that it will take you There and Back, not once, but many times, and that it is the lowest "After Cost" car on the market today. If you are a prospective car owner, 'phone us and we will be glad to take you for a trial spin in the Maxwell "25."

SAMUEL DERN

Committed Suicide At Denver, Cal., Saturday By Using Chloroform.

Word was received here from Denver, Col., Saturday by Mr. Edward Dern that his brother, Samuel Dern, aged 35, had been found dead in a rooming house in that city Saturday morning.

When the body was found a handkerchief saturated with chloroform was tied about his head, covering his nose. The coroner said that Dern killed himself.

Deceased is survived by two brothers, Messrs. William and Edward Dern, of this city.

CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS.

Mr. Ross Owens, candidate for Councilman from the Second Ward, has withdrawn from the race on account of business engagements.

Jack Porter was arrested at Winchester on a charge of having whisky in his possession and he certainly had the goods—233 half-pints being found. He was fined $104, which he paid.

John L. Chadwick, aged 89, died at his home in Boyd county last week. He was the father of Postmaster J. L. Chadwick, of Vanceburg.

MISS M. C. DOW CALLED BY DEATH

Successful Business Woman Who Amassed Fortune Dies Just As Success Crowned Life.

HER NOTABLE CAREER
IN ESTABLISHING STORES.

(Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, Monday, October 18.)

Death claimed Miss M. Cora Dow last night at 7 o'clock. She passed away peacefully, having fallen into a sleep a short time before the end came.

A short time before she fell asleep she talked with her mother, Mrs. Katherine Dow, and her physician, Dr. A. B. Thrasher, of the coming end and said death would be a rest from the bitter suffering from bodily ills she had endured for almost twelve months.

There were only the attending nurse, Dr. Thrasher and his wife and the manager of her chain of drug stores present when she died.

Falling For Years.

While it has been known by her intimate friends for almost a year that she was stricken with a disease that was certainly robbing her body of its life, yet the fact has been kept from the public.

Miss Dow, as she was known in the business world, was 48 years old.

Miss Dow's life was full of business adventure. She started in the drug business as a girl, working as a clerk in her father's store. He died when she was still in her teens. The cares and management of his drug store fell upon her shoulders. She saw it as a task that would require all the efforts of a trained mind to manage, and she set about to get an education that she might carry on her father's business.

Studied Pharmacy.
Going to the College of Pharmacy, she completed her course there with honors and at that time was the first woman pharmacist in the United States. Magazines and newspapers commented on this accomplishment.

The drug store was remodeled and very soon another larger one started on Race street just above Seventh. It was in this location she began a remarkable career.

Beginning of Success.
The old shelves were soon replaced with the best money could buy. Old cases were remodeled and the fragrance of perfumes and flowers greeted the customers. Then began a success that culminated October 1, when she sold out the eleven stores she operated successfully for years.

No sooner had Miss Dow begun to prosper in the drug business than attempts were made to impede her progress. She was a firm believer in newspaper advertising. This brought down the wrath of the less enterprising druggists as well as the big pharmaceutical houses that supplied the druggists with their wares. When Miss Dow cut the price on established medicines efforts were made to stop her.

Wins Big Suit

A suit was won by her in the courts establishing the precedent that retail druggist or any storekeeper could sell at his or her own price. This brought her into national prominence. As a business woman there are few in this city who ever accomplished the results Miss Dow did in her forty-eight years. It has been estimated that she amassed $1,000,000 through her own endeavors.

She was also a woman of a splendid musical education. This talent was cultivated even before she became a druggist. Almost to the end, even while suffering great pain, her interest in musical matters did not slacken.

Recently Sold Business.

When Miss Dow disposed of her chain of drug stores on October 1, she realized that death was but a matter of days with her and she issued a farewell note to her employees. They did not know, however, that it was really such. She wished them to stay with the new organization and said: "All I ask of each of you is that he do his work the best he can and give the new organization the same fidelity, effort and loyalty that have been mine for so many years. And from me, as long as I live, you will have an abiding affection. God bless every one of you."

Her Benediction.
This was her benediction for those who helped her so largely to mount the ladder of financial success.

Manager Hopkins of the Dow Drug Company said last night the death of this woman would make no difference in the proposed consolidation of the stores with the Weatherhead Drug Company's stores.

The funeral services will be conducted at the Dow home on Elmhurst Place, East Walnut Hills, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Frank Nelson will deliver a sermon. Burial will be in Spring Grove.

It was one of the last requests of Miss Dow that the funeral be a simple one. This request was the only one she made and every effort is being made to carry out this desire.

The Dow drug stores will be closed this morning and remain closed until after the funeral Tuesday. Mr. Hopkins gave orders last night that all stores of these stores should close at midnight and remain closed until Tuesday night.

THREE WOMEN ELIGIBLE

Social Agencies To Recommend One For Position.

A Cincinnati woman and two from Cleveland are eligible for appointment as Superintendent of the Women's department of the State-City Free Employment Bureau at Cincinnati, according to word received in Cincinnati Thursday from Columbus. They are Margaret Maxon, of Cincinnati, who is first on the list, and Rachel S. Gallagher and Renee Darnstader, of Cleveland, who are second and third, respectively. The Council of Social Agencies met late Thursday to make a recommendation as to which of the three shall receive the appointment. The position pays $1,500 a year.—Times-Star.

Miss Maxon will be remembered as having had charge of the club work in the Maysville City Mission, and is now holding the position of Welfare Secretary in the Streibmann Biscuit Company, of Cincinnati.—[Editor.]

HAD TALKING MACHINE OUT-CLASSED.

Monday afternoon in Police Court, the nearest thing to perpetual motion that has ever been in this city gave an exhibition. A negro by the name of Joe Wilmore was before his honor, Judge John L. Whitaker, on the charge of the breach of the peace, it being said that he whipped his better half.

Almost as soon as Joseph walked up Court street he started to orate, and by the time the door of the courtroom was reached he was traveling at full speed. When placed on the witness stand the perpetual motion act was going fine and the only thing that could be heard was the story of how it happened, from Joe's viewpoint, he claiming to be the victim of a jealous wife who would not allow him to look at a female.

After hearing the concert, Judge Whitaker dismissed Joseph and told him to go his way. This did not give Joe a chance to show his powers of oratory and he started to make a speech of appreciation to the judge for his dismissal. Unable to stand the tumult any longer, the Judge ordered that he be ejected from the seat of justice and this was done, ending the greatest gabfest ever held in this city.

SHOULD BE STOPPED.

During the last month the streets of this city have become a mecca for small girls and boys who approach the stranger and ask him for a nickel or a dime to get something. The majority of the time the approached one looses up and gives the urchin something. Once he does this, he is spotted as a soft one and is ever afterward hailed for another gift. These children are reaping a harvest from some of the soft marks of the vicinity and should be made to stop the practice, which is very annoying to those approached. The Juvenile Court should take the situation in hand and do something.

ELKS TO PRACTICE FOR MINSTREL TONIGHT.

The actors and actresses who are to be in the Elks' Minstrels, which will be given in this city in a few weeks, will hold their first practice this evening at the Elks' Home, at the corner of Court and Second streets. The minstrel promises to be one of the events of the season. Many of the most prominent men of the city are to take part. "Gov." Bowen, the world's famous minstrel man, will have charge of the show, which assures the success of the affair.

SOCCER FOOTBALL GAME CALLED OFF.

The soccer football game scheduled for Monday afternoon between the teams of the Adelphi and Athenaeum Literary Societies of the Maysville High School, was called off on account of bad weather. The rain of Monday made the field a mud puddle and put all chance for fast play in the background. The game will in all probability be played Wednesday afternoon at League Park.

MISS ALLEEN BERRY ENTERTAINS

Miss Alleen Berry was the hostess at a 6 o'clock dinner, assisted by her aunt, Mrs. E. L. Marshall and Mrs. Ed Whittington.

The diningroom and house were decorated with nasturtiums and cosmos. The lights were subdued, giving quite an artistic effect. Miss Berry is a charming hostess and her young friends are always delighted.

MAYSVILLE BOYS

Making Good At School In Illinois As Editors and Football Players.

The Ledger is indebted to Messrs. Anderson and Louis O'Hare, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Martin O'Hare, formerly of this city, for a copy of "Maroon and White," a breezy monthly published in the interest of the Alumni, Faculty and Student Body of Austin High School, a suburb of Chicago, Ill. The magazine is well gotten up, consisting of thirty or more pages, the cover being printed in black on maroon paper. Mr. Anderson O'Hare is editor-in-chief and Louis O'Hare one of the assistant editors.

On page six is an interesting article by Mr. Anderson O'Hare on "Where We Stand," which is a credit to the school and would do honor to many an older writer.

Besides this there is an interesting account of the recent football game between that school and their old enemy, the Lake High School, in which the Austin school came out victorious by the score of 28 to 0. In this game young Louis O'Hare featured as a tackle and showed great speed as a field runner.

The Ledger congratulates these young men, and wishes them every success in life. Mr. and Mrs. O'Hare have every reason to feel proud of their sons, and their many friends in Maysville join with them in this feeling.

THE WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE.

The Washington Opera House gave its patrons a real show Monday evening when the great marine serial, "Neal of the Navy," was shown. The chapter of the serial shown was pronounced by those who saw the show as the best yet shown of this interesting series. Kate Price, the side-partner of the late John Bunny, the "king of comedians," was featured in the Vitagraph comedy, "The Revolt of Mr. Wiggs." The Selig animal picture, "The Heart of Paro," was also shown and pleased the children. One of the Paramounts travel series ended the show.

THE GEM THEATER.

Manager Mills treated the patrons of this pretty playhouse to a show of the first water Monday afternoon and evening. The Vitagraph feature in three acts entitled "My Lost One," in which Dorothy Kelly and William Dunn starred, was the headline. "Under the Fiddlers' Elm," a Lubin special feature in two parts, which featured Edgar Jones and Justina Huff, was also shown. The show was exceedingly good.

LOT SALE TODAY

Forest Avenue and Second Street Addition To Be Opened To the Public Today.

This morning at 10 o'clock the new addition to the city of Maysville, known as the Forest Avenue and East Second Street Addition, was opened to the public. The site of the new addition is on the old ball park and is the last of the choice available lots to be put on sale in this city. The plot, which has been laid off in such a manner as to make it one of the most beautifully-arranged sections of the city, contains ninety lots that vary in size from 35x75 to 25x60 feet, all being situated on the streets that divide the plot.

West Bros. Realty Company, of Louisville, will have charge of the sale and from all indications the sale will be the biggest thing that has ever been staged in this city in the way of land deals. The sale will continue all day, during which time valuable prizes will be distributed free among those attending the sale.

The Second Annual Rural Church Institute and School of Principles and Methods for Rural Church and Bible School Workers will be held at North Middletown, Ky., for five days, beginning Monday, October 18, and closing Friday night, October 22.

Mrs. Benjamin H. Greenlee, who has been at her home in Owenton since her marriage about a month ago arrived last evening to join her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Greenlee will reside with the groom's parents on West Third street, for the present.

the drift of public sentiment, which at this writing is decidedly away from Mr. Stanley and his associates on the State ticket.—Lexington Leader.

The last Congress was clearly under the domination of Woodrow Wilson. That is to say, it did the things that he wanted done and left undone the things that he frowned upon. But he had to have Bryan's help to pass some of the legislation. Bryan was then in the cabinet and his ear was receptive to the President's summons. Besides, every time he helped the President he was able to land some "deserving Democrat" at the crib. Now Bryan is out, and his closest friends in the government service are finding it convenient to "tender their resignations." The next Congress will not be strongly Democratic. Can Wilson control it without Bryan's help?

Down, down, down, goes the net balance in the general fund of the Federal Treasury. From $80,000,000 on July 1, the balance gradually dropped to $44,300,671 on September 23. That balance looks small compared with a balance of $126,734,155 on the corresponding date two years ago, when revenue laws and appropriations enacted by Republican administrations were still in force. The deficit for this fiscal year is already about $35,450,000, and growing day by day.

James J. Hill urges that we loan a billion or so to the belligerents of the Triple Entente. They are buying things from us, he argues, and if we do not lend them the money they can not pay us for our goods, our exports will fall off and our crops will decline in value. Then all this tremendous "war order" export business is not real business at all—ch, Mr. Hill! Any one can do business if he will lend his customers the money to pay their bills.

Ed. Morrow, the Republican candidate for Governor, is having some of the largest crowds ever known in Kentucky at political gatherings. Last Saturday night he spoke at Louisville and the building was crowded to overflowing, many being unable to gain admission. This is a good indication of how the "wind will blow" in November.

A British prize court has confiscated about $15,000,000 worth of American products which were consigned to neutral buyers and shipped before any blockade was proclaimed. At Washington it is said that this injury to American shippers constitutes "no present issue" for the administration. More "watchful waiting," we suppose.

After playing one rival cut-throat in Mexico again another for more than two years, the Wilson administration has recognized Carranza. The ostensible burden of the President's remarkable personal hostility to Huerta was that Huerta's rise to power was by means of murder. Well, how about Carranza's?

The warring Democratic factions in Maryland will soon hear their master's voice from the White House. State issues, personal ambitions are as nothing where Mr. Wilson rules. He is the whole thing in the Democracy, and he does not hesitate to let people know it.

The Kentucky bankers, at the Frankfort meeting, severely criticized the management of the State finances. And the majority of the bunch is Democratic! How very ill-timed and how cruel to blurt truths at a bankers' meeting!—Commercial Tribune.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Made and Adopted at Lexington, Ky., June 5, 1915.

In order that the people of Kentucky might know just what they are voting for when they vote the Republican ticket this year straight, The Ledger reprints the Republican platform as adopted at Lexington on June 5, of this year:

The Republican party of Kentucky, in convention assembled, adopts the following platform:

1. We approve the policies of the National Republican party in providing for the defense of our coasts against foreign invasion and the protection of American industry against pauper labor of foreign countries, without imposing unnecessary or unjust burdens upon the consumer. We favor the nomination for the Presidency a candidate who is in accord with these policies and is abreast of the spirit of progress required by ever changing conditions. We condemn the inefficiency of the administration at Washington, its inadequate tariff law and its war tax in times of peace, which have resulted in the closing of factories, the stagnation of business and the enforced idleness of millions of workmen.

2. We demand the redistricting of Kentucky into legislative, senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, which shall give equal representation and equal voting power to every citizen of every district, in conformity with the plain requirements of the Constitution, and not, as at present, in flagrant violation thereof.

3. We demand the repeal of the present infamous primary law, framed for the purpose of preventing freedom of choice to the voter, and favor the enactment of a law which shall permit party nominations for judicial officers without regard to the party affiliations of the candidates, so that the judiciary may be chosen on non-partisan grounds, and the continuance in office of judicial public servants may be determined by no other qualification than that of fitness.

We favor amendments to State laws permitting and encouraging joint nominations of the same candidate by the different parties. We demand the repeal of the law providing for registration certificates imposed upon the State by the Democratic party for immoral political purposes, whereby voters in Kentucky have become negotiable instruments, passing by delivery.

4. We demand that the public schools of the State shall be kept entirely out of politics, and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all school matters. We call for better schools and schoolhouses, for longer school terms in the country and better pay for the teachers.

5. We also favor extending the aid of the State to its institutions for higher education.

6. There should be complete publicity concerning the expenditure of money for political campaigns, and a law should be passed for the accounting by candidates and campaign managers of all sums of money collected for political purposes.

7. We demand the enactment of a law providing for bi-partisan control of the penal and charitable institutions and for abolition of convict labor, and we endorse the constitutional amendment providing for convict labor on the public roads and highways, insofar as the same may be done without injury to free or organized labor.

8. Realizing the influence of good roads on the economical, educational, social and religious development of the State, we pledge ourselves that that present law, introduced by a Republican, authorizing State aid, shall be carried out, and the building of permanent highways throughout the State by a system guaranteeing to the people an honest expenditure of their money shall be encouraged.

9. We favor further legislation for the protection of labor from unnecessary bodily injury, and we favor the enactment of a fair and equitable workmen's compensation law.

10. We favor giving to the Railroad Commission power to regulate public utilities of the state.

11. We favor the passage of laws which shall make effective the constitutional provision against the issuance of free passage to officials and their families.

12. We oppose double taxation, and favor a thorough revision of the tax laws which shall equally distribute the burdens of taxation, reduce the rate, and not only retain the capital now invested, but invite the investment of other capital in the State. We favor the adoption by the people of the constitutional amendment enlarging the power of the General Assembly on the matter of taxation, and when such additional law is passed to make it effectual only when submitted to and approved by the majority of the people who vote upon the same. We favor such regulation by law as will consolidate assessment and collection of taxes, so that the cost of collection may be materially reduced.

13. We condemn the enactment by the Democratic party of a large number of obnoxious laws, the creation of useless and expensive offices and commissions, and the wasteful and extravagant expenditure of money, and we promise, if given power, to repeal all such laws, to abolish superfluous offices and reduce the most of administration to the least possible point consistent with an economical and efficient system of government.

14. Realizing the importance to the State of the prosperity of the farmers, we heartily approve of their legal efforts to secure better prices for the products of their farms, and pledge ourselves to assist them in all legal ways.

15. For economic, as well as humane reasons, we recommend that the State of Kentucky undertake to supplement and later to continue the work of the United States Public Health Service for the prevention of blindness, from trachoma, a communicable and painful disease of the eye, from which the last census reports show that 23,000 persons are suffering in a single section of the State.

16. Expressly reserving the right of all Republicans to vote upon the question of woman's suffrage as they see fit, we favor the adoption by the next General Assembly of a resolution submitting this question to the people for decision at the election of November, 1917.

17. The Republican party in Kentucky is responsible and deserves the credit of the County Unit Law. In 1907 we declared definitely for the Local Option Law, with the county as the governing unit. In 1911 we again declared for the County Unit Law in accordance with the Constitution.

We now declare our continued adherence to the County Unit Law and we hereby endorse the present County Unit Law in Kentucky and pledge ourselves to its strict and rigid enforcement, and we favor the adoption of such amendments thereto as may be necessary to make it effective beyond question.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

Mrs. John Burns, Mayville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and kidney trouble. They came on every three or six months and at times I was confined to bed and almost helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick benefit. Since then when I have noticed slight return attacks of backache, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to quickly check the trouble."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Burns said: "The statement I gave before praising Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this medicine acts as represented."

W. K. BROS.

Coming Tuesday, October 19, Charlotte Walker in a Picturization of "Kindling"

Read the Following Synopsis of This Great Picture

"KINDLING," which scored a tremendous hit when first produced on Broadway and throughout America, is a play with an immense human theme—the right of honorable beings, industrious and sober, to live under such conditions that they can bring children into the world and give them a fair chance in life. Though the subject is especially plain-spoken, so to speak, the author, Mr. Charles Kenyon, handles it with that simplicity which dignifies it and makes it eternal drama.

The heroine of "Kindling" is a woman of the tenements, about to become a mother, who is afraid to admit the coming event to her husband because she knows that he thinks it wrong to bring children into a life of poverty and squalor. In her attempt to solve a problem which is too big for her she steals from the rich woman who owns the wretched building in which she has been condemned to dwell. When the day of reckoning comes she finds that her husband is really worthy of her and he tries to shield her from all blame.

The events which lead to the happy conclusion of this wonderful drama, and the departure of husband and wife for the Far West, are of most compelling interest.

"KINDLING" is a theme drama of the finest order. It has been produced by Cecil B. De Mille and is a positive masterpiece.

STOCK AND CROP NOTES.

Catesby Woodford, Jr., of Bourbon, purchased 100 head of feeding cattle in Fleming county.

Calvert Meng, of North Middletown, bought two bunches of yearling cattle from Milford Berry, in Carlisle, at $7 per 100 pounds.

Bert McClintock, of Millersburg, bought fourteen head of aged mules in Nicholas county at an average of $146 per head. These mules measure about 15.5 hands each.

The Mutual Tobacco Company, with a capital of $10,000,000, has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, with headquarters in New York. This company, it is anticipated, will be represented on the Kentucky tobacco market this winter.

In Clark county, George Hunt, W. D. Judy and Henry Quisenberry, sold to John Henry Thompson, of New Carlisle, O., ninety extra good feeders, 1,150 pounds average, at $8 per hundred.

The Kentucky State Board of Agriculture has launched a movement for a $100,000 exposition building at the State Fair grounds, through the issuance of bonds based on space rental contracts.

With the wheat crop exceeding a billion bushels, the largest ever produced by any nation, and a corn crop which may prove to be the biggest ever grown, the government's October crop report announced preliminary estimates which indicate record harvests also of oats, barley, tobacco, rice, rye, sweet potatoes and hay.

Robert S. Strader, of Lexington, acting for John L. Dodge, of New York and Lexington, bought from Luther Stivers, at Lexington, the 2-year-old trotting colt Forest B., for $2,000, at which price the colt seemed to be a real bargain. The colt will be raced the coming season over half-mile tracks, not having any Futurity engagements, or would probably have commanded a considerably higher figure. Forest B. is by Mainleaf, out of Amy Clark, by Prodigal.

David Shaw, the noted Cleveland (O.) horseman, now in his eighty-third year, drove Peter Mack to beat his record of 2:10 and finished third in 2:03 1/2, at Lexington. The first quarter was made in 30, and the half-mile was passed in the whirlwind time of 59. Another quarter brought the colt to the next pole in 1:29 1/2, but Mr. Shaw's horse could not keep up the gruelling grid and fell off. However, seven seconds were lopped off the record.

John E. Madden, of Fayette, sold to H. Schleissinger, of Milwaukee, his crack bay filly, Walnut Tree, 2:12 1/2, by Silko-Markala. Walnut Tree trotted both heats in the 2-year-old Futurity second to Volga. Walnut Tree was bred at Hamburg Place, is a granddaughter of Nancy Hanks, and is regarded as one of the best fillies on the Grand Circuit. The report is that the estimated price on Walnut Tree is $10,000.

An apple tree on Mr. J. C. Crouch's farm, near Plum Creek, is 50 feet high and forks 8 feet above the ground; has 6 prongs, 3 of which are 15 inches through and 3 feet and 7 inches at fork, and it is 8 feet and 4 inches at main trunk and 8 feet and 4 inches at the ground and out to limbs is 4 1/2 feet one way and 59 feet another. A tree was set out in the year of 1845, and has failed to bear but four times. It has an abundance of fruit on it this year and promises to live and bear fruit many years to come.

Eider K. M. Reynolds, of North Middletown, while preaching at Plum Creek, took the dimensions of the tree. Jack Barrymore, formerly owned by Matlack & Shropshire, of Winchester, won the world's championship in the five-gal saddle horse ring at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Major Dare and Johnnie Jones, who have long been champions of the West, won second and third honors. Jack Barrymore won a number of first ribbons in various show rings at the exposition, and outclassed competitors from all over the world in the big championship contest. The horse when shown in Kentucky in thirty-one consecutive shows, won thirty-one first prizes. He is owned by H. B. Thornburg, of California, who purchased him from Matlack & Shropshire for $5,000. Billy Shropshire is showing Jack Barrymore and other fine horses at the exposition. Mavis, another good horse, formerly owned by Matlack & Shropshire, was awarded the world's championship prize in the walk-trot and canter class. A loving cup was the prize and is said to be the prettiest ever given.

Coffee Dwarfs Children Physically—Mentally

Prominent school workers assert coffee drinking school children are underweight, underdeveloped and backward in studies.

The State Board of Health of Texas has been making inquiries into the effects of coffee upon school children. "Children who drink coffee for breakfast," says one report, "come to school exhilarated, they work strenuously in the morning, and are overflowing with energy and vitality, BUT THEY DO NOT LAST under the school routine; they become fatigued more quickly than the other pupils, and by the close of school in the afternoon they are exhausted to the point of stupidity. They are nervous and therefore unstable in their deportment."

It has also been found by other investigators that "children who drink coffee averaged from one and one-half to more than four pounds less in weight, and from one-half inch to more than one inch less in height, than the children who abstained from coffee. They were also found to have an average of three pounds less in hand strength than the children who never drank coffee."

NOTE—Many parents have found it to their children's advantage to give them Instant Postum as the hot morning beverage instead of coffee. This delicious food-drink resembles coffee in color and flavor, but is entirely free of the disturbing coffee drug, caffeine, and other harmful ingredients.

At the Dispensary

In a number of cities in the state there are dispensaries where those who do not feel well may go for an accurate medical inspection. These dispensaries are maintained particularly to afford facilities for the examination of consumptives or those who suspect themselves of having tuberculosis. The visiting nurses in their rounds of the city direct rundown people to the dispensary for examination by the physicians.

The first step in the examination is to take the height and weight of the patient and to learn many other simple facts about the case. This work is done by the nurse, and the physician then makes a careful examination of the patient. In the early stage of the disease, and the dispensary, the visiting nurse and the physician find the patient is induced to return at regular intervals to the dispensary, and the nurses visit the patients as often as possible in their homes.

A dispensary at every county seat in Kentucky affording facilities for the careful examination of suspected consumptives under the supervision of experienced physicians and nurses would result in the discovery of thousands of cases at the early stage, when, with proper treatment, they could be regarded as a reasonable degree of health. Consumptives ordinarily do not go to the physician till they are too far advanced for successful treatment. Consequently there should be visiting nurses in every county to search out the sick in their homes and bring them in touch with the physicians, either in dispensaries or at the doctor's office. About 5,000 Kentuckians die annually of tuberculosis. Not a single one of these deaths is necessary. But this death rate will keep up until there are proper provisions for finding consumptives in the early stage of the disease, and the dispensary, the visiting nurse and the health officer, who go out and look for the sick, comprise the most successful organization for the discovery and prevention of tuberculosis.

BACK TO OLD FASHION
SEAMS ARE AGAIN CONSIDERED IN HEIGHT OF STYLE.

Recent Change in Opinion Is Most Marked, and Has Much to Recommend It—Some New Ideas in Sleeve Models.

The new fashions do not insist upon the darts which give the bust prominence and outline a strong curve to ward the small waist, because there is too much orientalism in clothes yet to allow of a small waist, but the shoulders are fitted and the chest is smoothly covered.

The shoulders are often made more narrow in appearance by a drooping line or a cap to which the sleeve is gathered; but nothing must take away from the attenuated back that is made to look smaller by reason of several seams running from shoulder to waist or hips, if the garment is a coat. There is no longer any prejudice against seams. What would have been considered too old-fashioned for anything except the family album is now very good style.

Another accepted fashion of recent years that must be avoided is the three-quarter sleeve. No matter for what hour the garment is intended during the day, the sleeve must be long. There's no uncertainty there. It may be full or tight, leg-o-mutton or precisely fitted with muffs of fur, or finished with a silk cord; its style depends upon the type of blouse, and its length depends upon the present law.

There is no tendency to allow the least evidence of fullness at the wrist; whatever the width at the elbow—and it is usually considerable—the wrist part fastens in as snugly as a glove. Happily this is so, for it is one of the best lines a woman can adopt if she wants her hand to look well.

The sleeve that is gathered to a small cap at the shoulder, bulges out at the elbow and is held in below is the one that the majority of French designers have sent over. It has taken the place of the bell-shaped sleeve which was featured last winter in coats and frocks. That style is out, unless it is occasionally seen on a luxurious long topcoat of velvet or fur.

The eighteenth century sleeve, which is made of white batiste or organdie and ends with a full over the hand, held in place by a tight bracelet of black velvet ribbon, is returned to fashion; it is used on that new kind of winter house frocks which Mme. Jolre of the house of Paquin accentuates, made of taffeta and organdie, of velvet and taffeta, and there is a wide band of the same summerlike material on the skirt or edging the ends of the sash.

Felt for Hats.
Felt is the super-fashionable material for early fall headgear; not only sport hats are of felt, but also smart suitors and turbans for wear with tailored street suits. Of course the felt hat is a blocked hat and the new shapes are charming, particularly the Mexican sombrero shapes, with a saucy roll of brim that reveals the hair and the big Boy Scout sailors that are worn tipped on the head.

Separate Skirts for Fall Wear.
Separate skirts, which for many years have been associated with the summer season, are offered in very attractive models for autumn wear. The new skirts are made on circular lines, and many of them have graceful redingote tunics, becoming alike to the stout or slim figure.

When you hear the ear splitting tink of an auto, jump sideways, or backwards, or anyway except for or jump again.

LOOKS LIKE CHANGE

President Wilson's New Views About Big Business.

Recent Utterances Seem to Indicate That He Has Reconsidered Certain Policies That Worked Much Harm to the Country.

President Wilson, in his speech to the United States Chamber of Commerce the other day, said he favored a modification of the antitrust laws that would make it possible for American business men to bind themselves together in common action in securing foreign trade. He would encourage such a concert of action, he said, provided that no combinations were formed to exclude any manufacturer or exporter.

His remarks were hailed with great applause, as well they might have been, since they were an approval of big business, which he has been fighting ever since he went into office. For there is certainly no difference in principle between trusts organized to get foreign business and trusts operating in this country.

And what becomes of the competition that he insisted was essential need of business when he demanded the dissolution of the big trusts? Is it not as desirable in the foreign trade as at home? Or, putting it the other way, may not combinations of business men under proper conditions be just as desirable and necessary in handling home trade as in commanding foreign trade?

Mr. Wilson said, in his Indianapolis speech, that he was not a business man, but in his Washington address he shows signs of an ability to learn. But it is "up to" him to explain why a trust of the kind he recommends is beneficial, and other trusts that do business at home are injurious.

President Wilson's Partisanship.
What a pity it is that the president cannot dismiss party politics from his mind when he is appointing or recommending officials, such as are the members of the federal trade commission! He named three Democrats—and that is well enough. The other two nominees should have been Republicans. They were not.

However, his Democratic predecessor, Grover Cleveland, displayed a like disregard of the proprieties when, in 1893, he named the judges of the new court of appeals of the District of Columbia. They were three in number. Cleveland nominated three Democrats and they were confirmed.

In striking contrast to this Democratic partisanship we may view the action of William H. Taft. That far-minded statesman had himself been a Judge. As president he elevated two Democratic justices from a lower court to the bench of the Supreme court of the United States, besides advancing a Democratic justice of that court to be chief justice of the United States.

Work for Fair Tariff.
It is a fact, not often recalled these days, that neither the McKinley law, the Dingley law, nor the Payne law was altogether to the liking of the man whose name it bore. Neither of the three men was a Chinese waller, though all three were so described by their opponents. They were hard-and-fast protectionists, but knew the subject so thoroughly they wanted, and tried to get, a tariff as fair to the consumer as to the producer, rating both as American citizens deserving of a truly national tariff policy. And the next Republican leader of tariff revision should guide by them, and try to have the same luck in impressing himself on his measure.

Mr. Taft's Exclusion.
Speaking of a private citizen who harbors no political ambition, Mr. Taft could not have been more correct. The Progressives have the party fold on condition that they leave behind them their fads, nostrums and isms.

But if a Progressive is stripped of his "fads, nostrums and isms" what would be left of him?

Wicked and Good Alliances.
A fact not lost upon observers is that when denouncing as wicked all alliances between Republicans and Democrats Mr. Roosevelt skillfully maintained silence concerning that alliance between the Bull Moose and the Jackass that gave the Democratic party its victory in 1912—New York Herald.

Unfounded Rumor.
Probably it isn't true that Secretary Bryan gives out, with his new passports, trading stamps good for one vote in subsection for the Commonweal or a ticket for one chautauque lecture.

Surely Not.
The editorials in the Commonweal by Mr. Bryan show no signs of having been written by the president.

A Liability, Sure.
It was a foregone conclusion that Bryan and Daniels would be issues in the next presidential campaign, though not necessarily paramount. Now McAdoo is looming up as a Democratic liability—Philadelphia Press.

Not the Same Thing.
It may be natural that Democratic newspapers should mistake unanimous support of the president of the United States for unanimous support of President Wilson, leader of the Democratic party.

Amidst all of this pestilence of war, and carnage and death, a learned citizen of Chicago arises to inquire, "Who is your favorite poet?"

It's all right to be born with a silver spoon in your mouth, but it's a deal better to have self-made "rocks" in your pocket.

Possibly it will be a war among the preachers for the honor of tying the Presidential knot.

ROAD BUILDING

COST OF ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Federal Roads Bill Shifts Part of Burden From Farmer to City Resident—Interesting Figures.

That federal aid will shift part of the burden of road improvement from the farmer to the city resident, is clearly shown by the report of the joint congressional committee prepared by Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., chairman. Farmers will be particularly interested in the figures presented.

Bourne shows that since national revenues are derived from indirect taxes, contributions to national funds are practically in proportion to population. While census reports show that less than half of the people reside in cities of 2,500 or more, the fact is that most residents of cities of 2,500 and less are in reality city residents. Out of 15,963,965 families, 5,689,838 reside on farms. Of 38,167,338 persons engaged in gainful occupations, 12,659,203 are engaged in agriculture, forestry and animal husbandry.

Sky Line Drive—One of Most Picturesque and Spectacular Roads in West—It is Built Along the Top of a Ridge 800 Feet Above Canon City, Colo.

bandry. Other statistics also show that only about one-third of the total population is rural.

Therefore, it is clear that under federal aid about two-thirds of the national fund would be contributed by city residents while all of it would be spent for improvement of rural roads.

"It should be remarked in this connection," says the report, "that although the burden of national participation in highway improvement would fall most heavily upon city residents, yet inhabitants of cities have been among the most active advocates of federal participation in highway construction and maintenance. While the merchant, the manufacturer, the professional man, and the wage earner of the city are only indirectly interested, they appreciate the value of good roads to the community and recognize the indirect benefit they will enjoy."

The report, printed as house document 1510, contains the most extensive collection of data on good roads ever gathered in one volume. Any person desiring a copy should write to his senator or congressman.

ADOPT CIVIL SERVICE LAWS

Provision Made for Appointment of Highway Employees in Accordance With Merit System.

Six states, namely, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin, now have civil service laws providing for appointment of highway engineers and employees in accordance with the merit system.

A description of the system in effect in each of the six states appears in the Good Roads Year Book just issued by the American Highway association at Washington.

The summary of automobile legislation in all the states is of timely interest in view of the fact that nearly 1,900,000 automobiles were registered in the United States during 1914, for which more than $12,000,000 in license fees was paid.

365-Day Road Club Maxims.
Was no time wasting. Work brings quicker results.

Many bad roads are only good road material wrongly arranged.

We must live with the dirt road, so make it as good as possible.

In many localities the big fat dollar that goes into the collector's office in the fall looks like "thirty cents" when met on the road next spring.

PUSH IT ALONG.
We should encourage boxing, wrestling and other many sports in the life of our young people, especially among young boys. Japan is a nation of little giants, and all because of their physical training. Though small in stature, they are mighty in the art of self-defense. In America we pay so little attention to the physical development of our youth that the country is full of young men who are totally unable to offer any reasonable defense in case of attack. And the time may come when we will need every ounce of energy we can command to keep our national head above the waters of defeat.

SAVES DAUGHTER
Advice of Mother No Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months. Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, 'and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me. At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years. At all druggists. ### HERIT'S FORTUNE.

Mayville, O.—The other day H. Earl was a hard-working individual in very moderate financial circumstances. Now he is the same hard-working individual, but a multimillionaire. It happened over night, as it were, and through the old familiar channel—the death of a rich uncle across the sea.

To be exact, Earl's heritage is $11,000,000. He is night master of transportation for the Willits-Overland Company. He and his wife live in a modest house at 436 South Sixth street. The dead uncle was Patrick Earl, for whom the Toledo man was named. He made millions as a manufacturer in Germany, where he removed from his home in Ireland when a young man.

Soon as the war is over," Earl, "I expect to go to Spain to lay claim to the property. I realize that many things can happen during the war."

Direct heir to my father and my mother, Earl, were the only children of their family and I am the only child of our father."

BORN OF PROGRESSIVES

States Republican Party—Morrow Being Welcomed All Over State.

Mayville, Ky.—The return of the governor to the Republican ranks has stimulated party enthusiasm. Revised registration figures that nearly every Bull and Bear in the G. O. P. camp are there were the Progressive city of Louisville 700 registered in other cities similar conditions.

Morrow, Republican governor, has invaded in Marshall county, near the district. Mr. Morrow to a discussion, he said, other nominees democratic ticket were avoided it was possible for them to be elected.

They ever, hoodwink the voters length from the speeches at Governor McDermott McChesney to prove that never had been and is not county unit law. At the election of 1911, Mr. Morrow, they stood and "wet" on the call on the plank in the form.

Mr. Morrow's speech created the extraordinary enthusiasm. It so tactfully delivered that the so partisan Democrat could not offend at what he said, and at close of the meeting he was given a ovation which resembled some of the best with in the sections of the state.

MORROW TELLS HOW STANLEY CHANGED

Condemned the State Administration When He Aspired To Be United States Senator, But Praises Party's Record Now.

REPUBLICAN GIVEN OVATION IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., October 15.—A. O. Stanley, Democratic nominee for Governor, was accused of inconsistency on every issue of importance in the present campaign by Edwin P. Morrow, the Republican nominee, in an address to a large and enthusiastic audience in the Union Tabernacle here yesterday afternoon.

"Morrow Day" was observed literally in Hopkinsville in honor of the visit of the head of the Republican State ticket and business was practically at a standstill from the time of Mr. Morrow's arrival shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning, until he left the city late in the afternoon.

Mr. Morrow was met at the station by a committee of prominent Christian county Republicans and by a crowd of several hundred men and women. A parade was formed and the nominee was escorted to his headquarters at the Hotel Latham. The procession was halted at the principal corners on the downtown squares while Mr. Morrow shook hands with admirers.

Come From Other Counties. Republican leaders from a number of nearby counties called on Mr. Morrow at his headquarters and early in the afternoon they escorted him to the scene of the rally. The big tabernacle was decorated with flags and bunting. It has a seating capacity of nearly 5,000, and practically every seat was taken long before the meeting was opened.

In speaking of the inconsistency of Mr. Stanley in regard to the various issues of the campaign, Mr. Morrow said that he had never seen nor heard of anything more ridiculous than the Democratic nominee's various flip-flops on various issues in the present campaign.

"Nothing more ridiculous has ever occurred in the history of Kentucky politics than the inconsistency between Mr. Stanley's statements and attitudes when he was seeking the nomination of his party and now, after he has become his party's nominee," said Mr. Morrow. "As a candidate for United States Senator he unmercifully assailed the Kentucky Legislature as being graft-ridden and controlled by the lobbyists, and he said in every speech he made that the only good motion made during that entire session was the motion for final adjournment."

"Now the same Stanley calls this same Legislature the keepers of covenants with the people. Henry Watterson calls the Legislature the 'shack that graft built,' and Stanley approves this utterance by reference to it in his public speeches. In spite of this Stanley now endorses an administration which permitted the erection of this same 'shack that graft built.'"

Stanley Changes Tune. "Four months ago Stanley was going up and down the State of Kentucky referring to deputy fire marshals as 'little fire-putters-out,' and saying of them that they had never even put out a bonfire or caught a lightning bug. Today these deputy marshals are Stanley's 'fire-putters-out,' and he seeks to justify them and their existence by saying that they are paid for by the insurance companies. He leaves the plain inference that it is perfectly legal to squander the money of the fire insurance companies."

"Furthermore, it is generally understood throughout Kentucky that when Mr. Bosworth withdrew as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial honors, Mr. Stanley's managers agreed to perpetuate in public office, Clifford Bosworth, Fire Marshal of Kentucky. "Stanley, in speaking of the public debt and of the extravagances of the present Democratic administration in an address at Bedford, Ky., in July, said: 'Now did you know that those fellows at Frankfort have spent nearly $3,000,000 more money than they had a right to spend. For they only had a right to spend what the Legislature says they should and if they spent only that much they would not be in debt. Nobody goes in debt unless he spends more than he has and flows in Frankfort couldn't be in debt if they had not spent more money than was appropriated by the Legislature.' Now this same Stanley approves of the Legislature he then condemned, indorses the same administration he then denounced, and to make inconsistency even more ridiculous, he asserts that by January 1, 1916, the public debt will only amount to about $1,000,000."

LARGE DALLIA DISPLAY Manchester Lady Has This Season 352 Distinct Varieties. The best proof that there is an endless variety of dallias is found in the collection to be seen in the garden of Mrs. Robert Cox, of Manchester. She is an admirer of the dallia, and has this season 352 distinct varieties. Some of them are very large and there is every imaginable shade to be seen.

The cactus varieties, which closely resemble the dallia, are conspicuous and equally as beautiful.

WONDERFUL GROWTH

Of Automobile Industry in the United States—A Business That Is Here To Stay.

Ever since the automobile industry became one of the leading factors in the commercial world, predictions have been made that a reaction would take place. Those prognosticators who had it all figured out that the turning point would come in 1914 or 1915 were as near to the truth as the positive individual who said the war could not last after June.

According to John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, the stability of the industry is greater today than at any time since its inception. "Any suggestions that the growth of the automobile business is only temporary," says Mr. Willys, "is not taken seriously by sane thinking people who have watched its growth and development during the last fifteen years. Twice during that time it has passed through national panics without even faltering and is perhaps the only big industry that has never received a serious setback."

"The demand for cars is greater today than ever before in the history of the business. This year the Overland plant will produce approximately 150,000 cars, which is more than double the output of last season. Although we are shipping on an average of 500 cars a day, the factory finds it necessary to work overtime in order to keep pace with the orders that are pouring in."

"The big price reductions alone have enabled thousands of people to invest in motor cars who heretofore considered them beyond their means. The ease with which the modern car is operated probably accounts for the great numbers that are now being sold to women."

"Instead of a luxury only indulged in by people of wealth, the automobile has developed into a practical necessity. This is particularly true in the vast farming sections of the country. Statistics show that the farmers are the largest purchasers of motor cars, yet they are the last people on earth to spend money foolishly. They do not invest in a car merely for the pleasure that it affords them. On the contrary, they consider the pleasure of it last. The average farmer looks upon the automobile as a time and money saver that will permit him to accomplish more work in less time than a team of horses."

"In the cities the motor car has become almost indispensable to doctors and professional men. It enables them to make more calls in a day than they could in a week if they had to depend on a horse or trolley car as a means of transportation. Salesmen, collectors and in fact, all outdoor business men are using the motor car to facilitate their work. "Every city and town in the country can boast of its quota of cars, but the present owners constitute only a small proportion of the possible purchasers. This is evidenced by the fact that dealers are continually oversold, no matter how large their allotments from the factory."

PARK THEM ELSEWHERE.

Saturday, quite a bit of disturbance was raised on Second street, due to the lack of space for traffic in the street. The parking of autos along the street was the cause of the congestion. Second street is about thirty feet wide and with the car track and an auto parked on each side a wheelbarrow can hardly navigate. The city officials should take the situation in hand and make the auto owners move their machines from this, the principal and narrowest street of the city. Upper Market street affords a fine location for the parking of machines, and should be used as such. If this is not done a serious accident will happen in the congested district and the proper authorities will regret that they did not take the situation in hand.

COUNTY COURT.

A paper bearing the date of November 15, 1904, with a codicil attached, bearing the date of June 10, 1915, said to be the last will and codicil of Arthur J. Donovan, was produced in court and upon the testimony of John L. Whitaker, the remaining living witness, and upon the proving of the handwriting of the deceased witness, Thomas M. Woods, by the remaining witness and the codicil by the attesting witness, John L. Whitaker, and James Mackey, was admitted to probate as the last testament and codicil of Arthur J. Donovan.

Renie Donovan, the wife of Arthur J. Donovan, deceased, was sworn in as executrix of the estate of Arthur J. Donovan. Bond given and approved.

FERTILIZING AND TANKAGE PLANT TO BE OPENED NEAR PARIS.

The Bourbon Tanking and Fertilizer Company is the name of the new enterprise which will begin business near Paris about November 1. The proprietor of the concern, Mr. W. W. McDonald, of Muncie, Ind., has completed a two-story building on the Hutchcraft place, on Second street, just outside the city limits of Paris. The new industry, which is being equipped with modern and up-to-date machinery, will utilize all dead stock in Bourbon county, including horses, mules, cattle calves, sheep, hogs, etc., converting them into fertilizer, tankage, soap, grease, etc., by means of steam cooking.

RIVER NEWS

There will be no more coal shipments from above for some time.

A minister of the gospel, cruising in a fast, homelike powerboat, is drawing big crowds at Utica, Ind.

Rivermen predict a good stage for some time, thus enabling the packet lines to continue running indefinitely.

A large steel barge, equipped with gasoline engines, wireless telegraph instruments, telephones, refrigerating plant, etc., will be launched for the Inland Transportation Company at the Howard Ship Yard next week.

Three barges of coal were lost in the Ohio river above Ashland. The Charles Brown lost one barge, while two barges of the towboat Dodge went to the bottom. The barges struck snags in the river because of low water.
